Based on learner profile settings, the course content satisfies the state sexual harassment training mandates of New York, Maine, Connecticut, and California (including AB 1825, AB 2053, and SB 396). For higher education customers, this course also engages faculty and staff members on how to identify and report sexual and interpersonal misconduct, and covers awareness and prevention education topics required by the Clery Act and Title IX, including state law definitions of consent, sexual assault, domestic and dating violence, and victim protections.
